

Shelburne Farms

Programs for Educators 2017

Education is at the heart of what we do at Shelburne Farms: education that links knowledge, inquiry, and action to empower students to build healthy communities and a healthier planet. It's called "education for sustainability" and it helps teachers bridge subject areas and grade levels, curriculum and school operations, and parents and community partnerships.

Jen Cirillo

Director of Professional Development

"My Shelburne [Farms] experience continues to shape me daily as an educator and I find myself referring to systems thinking and climate change education on a very regular basis with my fellow teachers. It has definitely changed the lens that I use as an educator and a sustainability leader in my community."

— Jean Lee, Educator, Falmouth, ME (Summer Institute on EFS)
